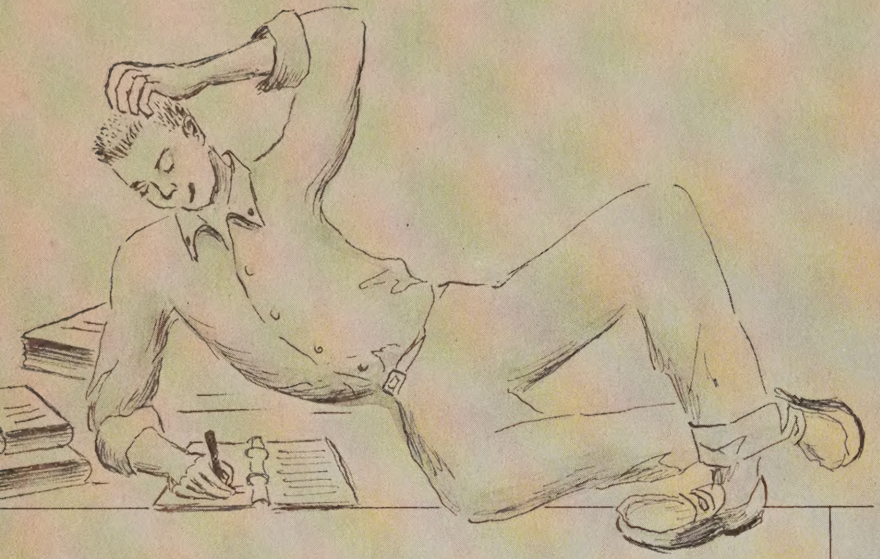
The Melody



FOREWORD

As we whirled through the stacatto paces of daily routine, many of us were too busy to reflect upon our experiences at P.H.S. But now, as we prepare to go out into the world, whether it be into jobs, homemaking, or further schooling, we pause to consider the great strides that we have made over the past four years. We remember the activities we participated in, the sports events we took part in as athletes or spectators. We recall the friendships we formed, the teachers who awakened our various interests, and the fields of knowledge we explored.

The purpose of our Milestone is to review the events and atmosphere of the school year 1957-'58. We hope that in years to come we will be able to glance through the yearbook and find that our memories of P.H.S. have not faded, but that, though the song is ended, "The melody lingers on."

IN DEDICATION

EDMOND C. LONSKY

In dedicating this year's Milestone, we, the class of 1958, wish to show our appreciation for the unflagging effort and continuous interest that one person put forth on our behalf. As a science teacher and as our class adviser for four years, he showed an individual interest in each one of us. He helped us see that by doing our share and by using good judgment we could make happy and successful high school careers for ourselves. We know that the guidance and friendship of this man will constitute a great part of the melody of our days as P.H.S.

To Edmund Lonsky we offer our deepest thanks. We will try to make the rest of our lives reflect the principles that he taught us.

Administration Makes Possible Our Educational Opportunities

Commencement exercises will culminate our thirteen years in the Plainfield public schools. We have taken for granted the school system which has served and nurtured us so well. It is proper now that we pause to express our gratitude.

Our city's concern for our welfare has been entrusted to the Board of Education. Their foresight, judgment, and unselfish devotion are demonstrated by the educational opportunities we have had.

Although we have had limited direct contact with Dr. Gill and his assistants, we are aware that their able administration makes possible the smooth functioning of the entire school system. Their planning and supervision have been behind our steady progress toward educational goals.

We hope that we shall prove ourselves worthy of the efforts that have been expended in our behalf.

MAPPING OUR FUTURE—The Board of Education considers plans for our expanding school population. Seated: Melvin Rozene, vice-president; W. T. Larew, president; Daniel Eisenberg. Standing: George P. Kinsey, Richard F. Clash, Superintendent Gill, and Dillman B. Cole, secretary-business manager.

HENRY H. BANTA
Administrative Assistant

JOSEPH E. PASSARELLA
Administrative Assistant

WARREN H. HELD Principal

JEAN FRANCIS
Vice-Principal

We did not regard our principal, Warren Held and his fellow administrators merely as a team of remote powers working mysteriously behind the scenes, but rather as a dedicated group of people who worked continuously to keep Plainfield High operating at its highest standards.

We remember Mr. Held for his never-ending endeavors to make P.H.S. the best school possible and for his friendly, personal interest in each of us. His warm personality and his devotion to our school have given Mr. Held a lasting place in our memories. In the one year that she has been with us as vice-principal, Doctor Francis has ingratiated herself with students and faculty alike. To our two assistant administrators, Mr. Banta and Mr. Passarella, we offer our thanks for the special efforts they have put forth in helping to make P.H.S. a smooth-running organization.

PONDERING A DECISION—Daily administrative conferences are behind the smooth operations of P.H.S. which we take so for granted.

FINDING THE ANSWER—Carol Cunningham seeks the help of her counselor, Mrs. Nellie P. Hastings.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

One of the busy spots in the school is the Guidance Office where the offices of the five counselors are located. Pupils come to their counselors to discuss the selection of their subjects, progress in their present courses, their future educational and vocational plans, their test results, and any problems which may be troubling them. Parents and college representatives are frequent visitors. Employers maintain continuous contact with the Placement Counselor. In these offices are kept many college catalogues, scholarship announcements, a file of vocational information, and many reference books. To help each pupil to discover and use his ability, to aid him in establishing his goals and reaching them, and to assist him in solving his problems — these are the objectives of the Guidance Department.

INDIVIDUAL ATTENTION—Junior Salvatore Carfaro and Counselor William V. Sette consider which courses to schedule.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

In our English classes we have been trained in the most effective use of language as the primary machinery of thought. The goal of the English department is to develop the student's thinking processes and his power to communicate with others.

To achieve these objectives we were drilled in the mastery of specific skills, so that we might learn to use acceptable grammatical forms, spell accurately, write legibly, and read with increased comprehension. The experience provided in communication has helped us to organize our thinking, to interpret directions, to read current publications intelligently, to listen effectively, and to speak clearly. By the use of current materials, we have been led to improve our taste in radio, moving pictures, and television. Our introduction to some of the classics has aided us in choosing our reading matter with discrimination.

Finally, we have been inspired to consider attitudes as well as ideas, to acquire a sense of values and proportion, and to perceive the greatness and worth of literature as an interpretation of life. These are the objectives the Language Arts program is attempting to realize in eighty-one classes in English, speech, and journalism.

WORDS ARE THE TOOLS OF THOUGHT—Miss Achtenhagen's period one senior class listen appreciatively to Grace Moody's report.

"WHO ARE THESE INTRUDERS?" — Miss Mixer's period six senior class get set for a composition critique.

GOOD NEWS?—Mrs. Westpfahl's P.A.D. class keep up-to-date in current events.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

This year, besides the regular courses in all phases of history, World Geography, Social Studies, and Problems of American Democracy, the department is offering a basic course in economics and one on the fundamental principles of social psychology. To supplement classroom sessions there are film strips, moving pictures, and outside speakers. Also, as an added highlight, there is a yearly trip to the United Nations building.

Democracy, equality, liberty, and freedom are more than just words to students who have taken required and elective social studies courses. In all of the departmental offerings there is provision for a variety of experiences designed to give each pupil an understanding and appreciation of the principles of democracy so that he may be able to preserve, defend, and advance the democratic way of life.

First row: Nancy E. Walker, Amy Bell, Carol Schembre, Marcia T. Westpfahl, department head; Margaret V. Smith, Geraldine M. Cooley, Florence Ackerman, Florence Firth.

Second row: Keith O. McClaskey, Joseph E. Passarella, Gilbert Young, Henry H. Banta, Paul B. Chambers, Richard Pajewski, John A. McCurdy, George J. Huettl.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

While some of us are frantically trying to asborb enough mathematics to make our future check books balance, others are exploring the fourth dimension. Every student is given the opportunity to study as much math as he desires and is capable of learning. We are offered courses ranging from general mathematics and elementary algebra to solid geometry and trigonometry, and we are placed in classes according to our proficiencies in these subjects.

This year the college preparatory mathematics curriculum is being modified according to the recommendations of the College Entrance Examination Board. With the recent emphasis on science, mathematics is becoming an increasingly vital subject to our society.

Plainfield High School students are fortunate to have such a complete range of course offerings which meet the needs of all and which challenge those individuals who are endowed with exceptional aptitude for the subject.

THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

In the near future, the lack of expert scientists may threaten the survival of our nation and our method of life. The lack of ability to understand and to interpret science is becoming more apparent every day. It is, therefore, the responsibility of the Science Department to teach each pupil to the limit of his capacity, the knowledge of science.

Each student is taught to identify and define scientific problems, to suggest or eliminate hypotheses, to select procedures for testing hypotheses, to interpret data and draw conclusions, and to evaluate critically statements made by others. Perhaps most important, science imparts to the student the ability to reason quantitatively and symbolically.

The P.H.S. Science Department offers general courses in the biological, physical, and earth sciences. These courses are also offered in the technical and college preparatory levels. This year the curriculum has offered more pupil participation and more laboratory work by the individual pupil.

THE GALLIC WAR—Mr. Edwin Faust quizzes his Latin II class.

First row: Ruth B. Denker, Edwin M. Faust, department head; Robert Cloos, Katherine M. Pratt. Second row: Rose Franco, Eleanor Horn, Ellen M. Stubbs, Celia C. Whitford, and Anne Campolattano.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Parlez-vous francais? ¿Habla usted español? Dicitisne Latine? Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Many P.H.S. students know at least one of these languages. Three year courses are offered in French, German, and Spanish, and four years in Latin. Conversational French is given to second and third year French students.

The main objective of the modern language class is to train students in the speaking, understanding, reading, and writing of the languages. This year special emphasis has been placed on the speaking of the different languages.

Latin students are taught to read Latin literature of various authors and to understand the derivation of English words from Latin.

Varied activities spring up each year as the language clubs start in action. Roman togas are donned for the annual Latin banquet sponsored by the Junior Classical League. There is a club for each of the four languages, and each is open to any student who wishes to supplement his class work.

COMPRENEZ-VOUS?—Miss Pratt and her French 3 class listen as Harriet Bellerjeau tests her fluency in the language.

First row: Edison R. Burden, Elizabeth M. Geiss, Kermit Whitehead, department head; Marjorie J. McConnell, William Gordon. Second row: Robert P. Schultz, Helen G. Morton, John J. Pearson, Marion Berry, Julius Senshyn, and Lina D. Gulushko.

INDUSTRIAL, HOME, AND FINE ARTS

Tantalizing aromas from the cooking classes and the clanks of the workshops permeate the ground floor halls as many of our future technicians, mechanics, and homemakers learn the skills which will prepare them for their chosen vocations.

The Industrial, Home and Fine Arts Department offers a large selection of courses to students interested in acquiring varied practical experiences. The students of art are taught the fundamentals of art as well as the principles and elements of design. The home arts course covers food preparation, buying, and planning meals. Selection of materials, clothing construction, grooming, social etiquette and interior decorating are studied. The Modern Living course helps students prepare for happy human relationships. The boys who elect industrial arts develop basic skills in auto, machine, mechanical drawing, metal, and woodwork shops. In these shops instruction is given in the handling of power machinery and various tools.

This year the department offers two new courses, arts and crafts and interior decorating.

By learning, observing, and doing, students gain a working knowledge of their prospective careers. With practice behind them, they can do a better job and look forward to a better future.

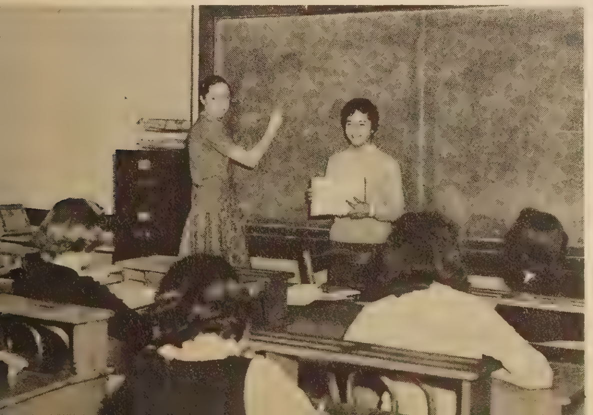
COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Do you want to be a secretary or an office worker? Is selling or merchandising your vocational choice? Does owning your own business sound attractive? Since many students answer "Yes" to these questions, the Commercial Department of P.H.S. is a vital part of our school's total educational program.

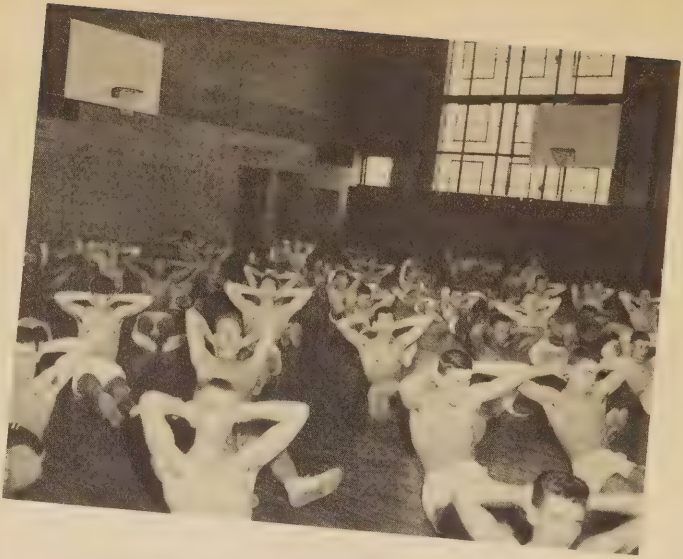
To help pupils secure and hold their initial jobs in the business world, this department offers courses which prepare students for many different business fields. The future secretary takes courses in stenography, typing, and a special course in secretarial office practice; a potential clerical worker's program includes studies in bookkeeping, business mathematics, and clerical office practice. Courses such as Business Law and Merchandising, Economic Geography and Salesmanship, and Junior Business Training are offered to students whose interests are in those fields. There is also a special typing course for students who wish to acquire a knowledge of the fundamentals of typing for their personal use.

LETTER PERFECT!—Miss Marie Maurel's Steno class practices transcription. Cynthia Judson and Lucille DiCellis demonstrate.



SECRETARIES IN THE MAKING—Mrs. Ruth Wyer observes as Sheila Bergner demonstrates speed and accuracy.

KEEPING US HEALTHY—Every pupil reports for the annual Patch Test. Dr. Willis B. Day and Nurse Marie Whelan on the job as Nancy Held goes through the line.



STRETCH THOSE MUSCLES! — Mr. Jack Liddy's period four class works off excess energy.

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND SAFETY DEPARTMENTS

Our Physical Education program is concerned with the corpore sano half of the "mens sana . . ." ideal. Its program of vigorous physical activities is selected and graded according to the pupils' needs and interests. Each pupil is scheduled for five periods of physical education a week, consisting of gymnasium activities, swimming, and health instruction classes.

The driver training program emphasizes safety-mindedness in the modern motor age, pedestrian safety, and a working knowledge of the parts of an automobile. This course features actual behind the wheel driving in the school's two specially equipped dual-control cars.

Other courses and activities included in this area of education are: Home Nursing, First Aid, and Family Relations-Social Hygiene.

First row: James R. Kern, Marshall C. Brown, Jack Liddy, Abram E. Smith, Edward J. Burns, Wilbur F. Brann, Nicholas J. Chrisicos. Second row: Elizabeth B. Persinger, Audrey Joyce, Herbert A. Stine, director of physical education; Ruth B. King, Virginia G. Hogan.

LIBRARY

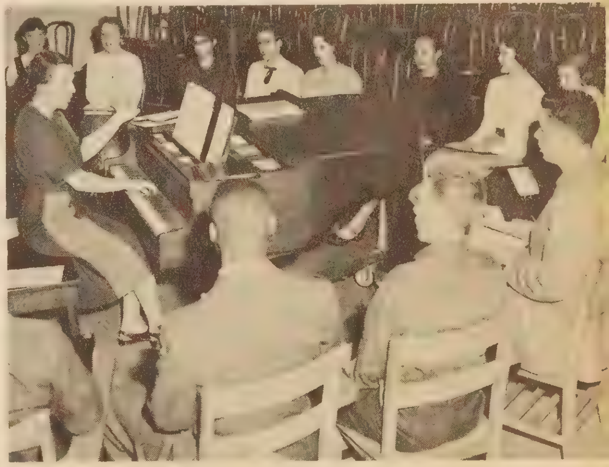
Josephine E Miller, librarian; Constance Smith, assistant librarian.

Books, books, and more books, ranging from encyclopedias to science fiction, crowd the shelves of our school library. Run on the same principle as any other library, ours includes material on virtually every subject, with especially strong collections in those fields which parallel subjects taught at P.H.S. Also included are an excellent group of recreational reading books suited to the teen-age taste and a collection of films and records which are always available to teachers and occasionally to students.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Chantez chantez, everybody sing along. For P.H.S. chanteurs there are three main choral groups: Mixed Chorus, Male Chorus, and Girls' Chorus. There are also a Boys' Ensemble and a Girls' Ensemble which permit small groups of students to exercise their vocal talents. On the instrumental side there are the band and the orchestra, which perform at concerts, school assemblies, and selected community affairs. For students seriously interested in formal music study the department offers the following: Fundamentals of Music, Harmony, History and Appreciation of Music, and Voice Culture.

CLOSE HARMONY—Mrs. Vera Monez's chorus class, period 8, train their voices.



Howard S. Savage, Clarence J. Andrews, Supervisor of Music; Vera Monez, and Dwight A. Brown.

Two Retiring Teachers End Long Service

GERALDINE M. COOLEY

As a teacher in the Social Studies Department since 1930, Miss Cooley kindled by means of her own enthusiasm and knowledge, the interest of literally thousands of students in the study of European and United States history.

Her wide travel here and abroad enabled her to enrich her instruction and to share her personal observations with her pupils. She had the faculty of inspiring creative and original work from her students which ranged far beyond the limits of classroom text books. She took pride in her students' accomplishments and set high standards of scholarship for them.

As the sponsor of the World Friendship Club, Miss Cooley demonstrated her concern for promoting international good will through mutual knowledge and understanding. Retirement gives her the opportunity to add to her first-hand knowledge of the world; she has embarked upon an extensive tour of Europe and the Near East.

Although we shall probably forget many details of history that we studied under her tutelage, we shall remember Miss Cooley as a good teacher and friend.

HERBERT A. STINE

In the thirty-eight years that "Hub" Stine has played a dominant role in Plainfield High as teacher, coach, supervisor, and Director of Athletics, our physical education program and our athletic teams have won national recognition and praise. His "boys" have gone on to win fame not only in the sports world, but also as leaders in every field of endeavor.

After five years of apprenticeship in Westfield, "Hub" joined the Plainfield High faculty in 1921. He was head football, basebal, and ice hockey coach until 1936, and a glance at the record will show that he was one of the best. Although he eventually gave up these duties, he never lost an opportunity to root for Cardinal teams and to impart some of his own enthusiasm and fighting spirit to the players.

Plainfield High School Field, the envy of most schools and colleges in the state, was planned, developed, and nurtured by Mr. Stine. These fine facilities and splendid playing fields are a testimony to his expert and constant supervision.

Appointed Supervisor of Physical Education in 1936 and then Director in 1953, Mr. Stine has led his department in its growth from two teachers in Girls' Phys. Ed. and two in Boys' Phys. Ed. to its present staff of ten gym teachers and two Driver Training instructors.

The years have lain so lightly on his burly shoulders that it is difficult to think of "Hub" as ready to retire. We are glad that he waited to graduate with the class of '58. We look forward to seeing him pacing the sidelines at PHS games for many years to come.

SECRETARIAL AND CLERICAL STAFF

First row: Ethel Gardner, counselor's office; Laura Moronese, placement office; Ann Parello, secretary to vice-principal; Mary Furino, switchboard operator; Lucy Jones, secretary to counselors. Second row: Ruth Lostbourne, attendance secretary; Mary Witteman, attendance office; Helen V. Hamilton, secretary to administrative assistant; Nina Durrow, secretary to counselors; Jane Foy, secretary to industrial arts and physical education.

"Answer that telephone, somebody. I'm sorry, but the principal is in conference right now. Is that college representative coming at ten or eleven? Yes, madam, we'll see that your son gets his lunch . . ."

This conversational potpourri provides some conception of the various duties of our clerical and secretarial staff. The myriad details of a large school keep them occupied cutting stencils, mimeographing, handling correspondence, and painstakingly transcribing student records. They are also called upon to do such jobs as seeing that students get forgotten lunches or identifying student pictures. The clerical staff is a vital part of all administrative departments: guidance, class advisors, and school administrators. Without their help P.H.S. would not run as smoothly as it does.

FRIENDLY AID—Mrs. Ann Parello, secretary to the vice-principal, genially presides over the front office.

IN GOOD HANDS — Principal Warren Held hands a memo to his secretary, Miss Caroline Reich.

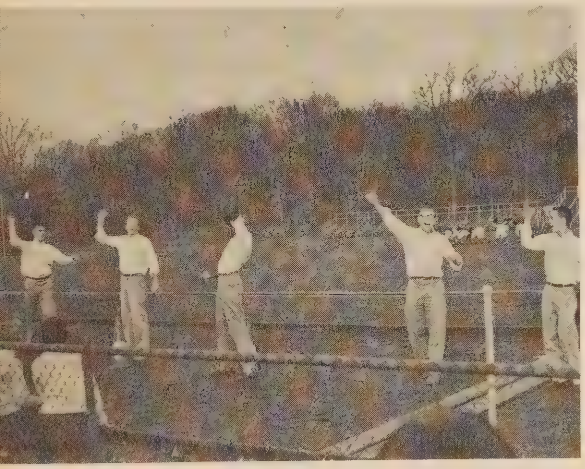
Major Achievements Mark

As we don our caps and gowns in preparation for "The Loveliest Night of the Year," we pause in recalling memories of the many events which studded our four years at PHS.

As freshmen, 'way back in September of '54, we wondered if we "lost chords" would ever be a part of the rhythmic pattern of Plainfield High. We struck the first notes by electing Peter Saidel as president and the tuneful ensemble of Ira Bloom, Susan Fickett, and Robert Levine to help him. Our first social event, the Freshman Party, was a wonderful success, and that same year we instituted a scholarship fund to be given to a member of our class at graduation.

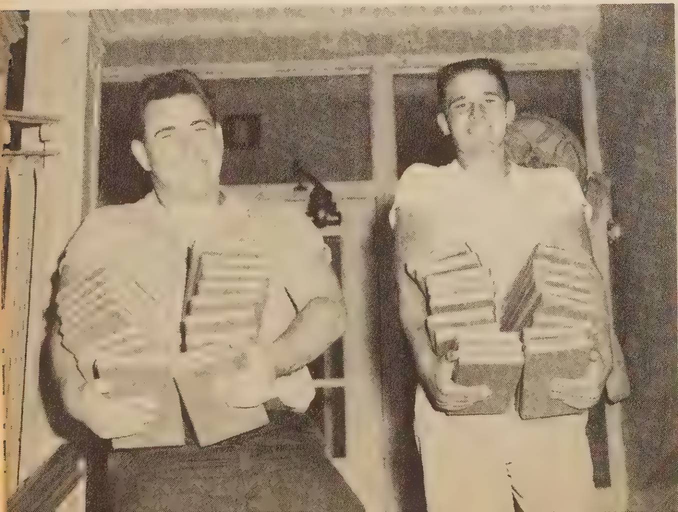
We returned to PHS as sophomores, eager to embark on a new year which seemed filled with added responsibilities and new experiences. A new quartet, consisting of Peter Saidel, Virginia Barlow, Joan Desvernine, and Robert Levine, was formed, and once again we became busy with class activities. PHS sweethearts were sold to aid our scholarship fund, and our Sophomore Dance, the Leprachun Leap, was "An Affair to Remember." Our second year ended on a high note, and we awaited our return to PHS as upperclassmen.

With our brand new class rings gleaming on our fingers, we began our junior year with enthusiasm. We elected Peter Saidel president, with Arthur Edwards, Dorothy Voogd, and Robert Levine working harmoniously to make this year even better than the two previous ones. "An Evening in Paris" was enjoyed at our Junior-Senior Dance, and the Prom, "Shang-ri-la," was a social event about which many of us are still singing. On a financial level, a tidy sum was added once again to our scholarship fund, thanks to sales from sweatshirts. With three wonderful years behind us, and the most important one coming up in the fall, we were "Sitting on Top of the World."



EH RAH, EH RAH—Senior boys leading cheering section: Frank Maresca, Chuck Breen, Bob Lear, Terry Foster, Mike Miller, and Jerry Rosenberg.

LOADED WITH LEARNING—Fred Podinker and John Nagengast look happy returning their class's books to English book room.



Class of '58's Record

Finally the all-important senior year was upon us, and we enjoyed the distinction of being the graduating class of Plainfield High. With Peter Saidel serving once again as president, and Arthur Edwards, Dorothy Voogd, and Robert Levine as the other officers, the class worked as a unit to make the last year a memorable one. Our Senior Play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," starred Bonnie Lee Friday and Margie Gonzalez. Student Council functioned more efficiently than ever with Joseph Hines, Tim Hall, Joan Rapps, and James Shrager as officers. The Entree went to press with Connie Genard as Editor-in-Chief, and Maxine Tepper edited the Milestone. We all went "Around the World in Eighty Days" at the Junior-Senior Dance, and once again, the Prom was one of the most important social highlights of the year. Along with the excitement of approaching graduation, we felt sad at the thought of leaving PHS and our many friends, to go our separate ways.

We, the class of 1958, have had an eventful four year at Plainfield High, owing much of our success to our adviser, Mr. Lonsky, and the other members of the staff. From those "lost chords" we have built a strong memorable melody to linger on in the years to come.

"YOUR PRIZE FOR BRAVERY." — Ship's purser, Dan Brown, delivers oration to Margie Gonzalez, Bob Levine, and Bonnie Lee Friday.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

"We're adrift! Alone on the wide, wide sea!" said the cast of the senior play on November 14 as they went aboard the PHS stage to make the memory of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" ever mindful in the hearts of those who saw the play.

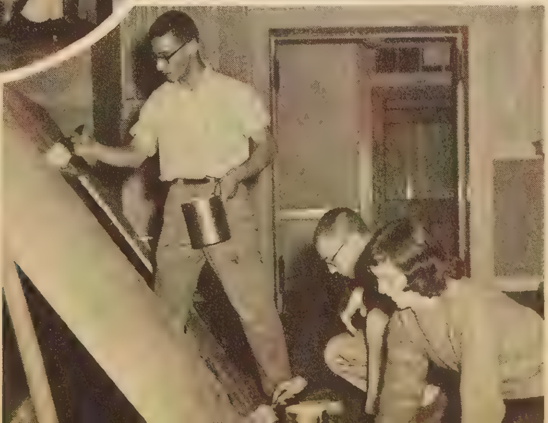
The ludricrous adventures of the Europe-bound Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough were no more exciting than the anxious search for costumes of the twenties for this production. The silent backstage dance lessons of the "stroll," the frantic rush to the cafeteria for ice cream before 3:10 p.m. rehearsals, and the diligent efforts of Emily and the boys to conceal Cornelia's measles were no more exciting than the never-ending efforts of the cast and Miss Mixer to produce an excellent show.

Finally, on November 16, when the curtain closed, a cry went up backstage, "They applauded!"

The product of weeks of hustling and bustling was at last presented to the public. It shall always remain in our memories as a tremendous success.

"NOW SAY AH-H-H" — Dave Mallory discovers that Cornelia has the measles.

CREATING THE SCENES— Peter Saidel, Mike Miller, and Lorna Gordon paint background for the play.



"CES JEUNES ACTRICES" — Bob Lear talks on telephone as Bonnie Lee Friday and Margie Gonzalez try to convince him of their acting talents.

Sims and Hines Win Class Scholarships

Combining their efforts during their four years at PHS, the class of 1958 has made possible the establishment of a scholarship fund of between 900 and 1,000 dollars. The scholarship is available to any senior preparing for college, secretarial school, nursing school, or any other type of higher educational institution, as the type of extended education is not specified.

In their sophomore year a committee of volunteer members was organized to determine the necessary qualifications and the method of selection. It was decided that the candidates for the scholarship must have a definite financial need and a satisfactory record of conduct. He must participate in extra-curricular activities and must have a satisfactory academic record.

This year, committees of students from the senior class were responsible for organizing the scholarship. More than six committees consisting of various students of the class worked for the cause.

A faculty board consisting of Dr. Francis, Mr. Lonsky, and the four counselors met to make the final choice of the best qualified individual. If, however, there are two candidates of equal qualifications, the award will be divided into two parts.

JOSEPH HINES

Joe's lanky frame helps him tower over his fellow students, but his character, personality, and abilities won him a position of leadership in our school. As president of Student Council he worked earnestly to foster good school spirit and student-faculty cooperation.

His four year record attests to Joe's eagerness to participate in and contribute to every phase of high school life. He plugged away to win his varsity sweater and to earn a place on the cross-country, basketball, and baseball teams. For three years his homeroom honored him by choosing him as president. His intellectual interests were furthered by membership in the Astronomy Club and the Spanish Club.

He was a leader, also, among the youth of the community. His good citizenship was on display as a junior trustee of the Bethel Presbyterian Church and as a representative on the N.A.A.C.P. Youth Council. Last summer he was one of the local delegates to Shawnee Leadership Institute.

Joe applied himself no less energetically to his studies. He ranked as an honor student. The scholarship he has been awarded will assist him in his plans for college and a career in applied mathematics in industrial research.

BARBARA SIMS

Blessed with energy, ability, and a friendly disposition, Bobbi undertook to make the most of her four years in Plainfield High. Her prominence in school activities and her position in the upper fourth of her class scholastically demonstrate how well she succeeded.

This year she served her second consecutive term as a Student Council representative. She acted as chairman of the Social Committee and as a member of the Executive Council. In addition, she was a member of Girls' Chorus. She found time, too, to serve as a member of the Ushers' Squad. During the past four years her versatility was evidenced by participation in tennis, archery, Mixed Chorus, and the Milestone editorial staff.

"Leisure" hours were occupied in the Jewish Community Center Youth Council and in part-time jobs. Bobbi has been employed as a sales girl and as a file clerk and receptionist in a lawyer's office.

A career of public service appeals to Bobbi. She plans to attend college to prepare for either teaching or social service work.

Pennants and Dances Give Juniors Banner Year

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS — Attilio Chiappa, president; Julius Chiappa, vice-president; Nancy Myzie, treasurer; Felicia Pfister, secretary.

Junior Class History

As we approach the end of our third bar of music, our junior year, we look back with pride at our harmonious background in PHS. Our special pride lies, of course, in our wise and understanding class adviser, Mr. A. Hamilton Otto.

We chose Robert Zagoria to put us on key as freshmen, followed by Jon Schreyack, Ellen Romer, and Katie Crowe. The high note of our freshman year was our Freshman Party.

The melody grew stronger during our sophomore year under the batons of Dave Tebbs, Herb Smith, Jo Ann Cowling, and Cynthia Barlow. We raised our voices high in favor of our Sophomore Dance and to the realization that at this year's conclusion we would be half-way through our number.

This, our junior year, proved to be an even higher pitched one. Attilio Chiappa, Julius Chiappa, Felicia Pfister, and Nancy Myzie conducted us through the third part of our tune. Our sale of pennants, the Junior-Senior Dance, and the Junior-Senior Prom brought us to a climax.

As we replay the tune in our minds, we realize that many changes have taken place from the time we began until the present, but we find that the general melody of our days in PHS lingers on and will continue to do so even after our grand finale—our senior year.

Class of '60 Swings at Sophomore Dance

Sophomore Class History

As we progress from the ranks of underclassmen, we now turn our melody to that of upperclassmen. Starting on a note of high anticipation, we gingerly tripped the keys as freshmen. Our offbeat notes and feats were cleared-up by our skilled adviser, Mr. Paul B. Chambers. We soon elected a harmonious quartet consisting of Ken Smith, Howard Feldman, Nancy Sargent, and Judy Larew to handle our business and plans. The outstanding event of the year was the Freshman Party. Our melody on the upsurge, we happily ended the first year.

Having more practice now, we put more rhythm into our sophomore year. To add a beat to our tune, we elected John Coyle, Ronnie Uslan, Nancy Sargent, and Carole Putsche. Less flaws could be noted now and we came into full swing at our Sophomore Dance.

As these two years come to a finale, we look back at our many memories and reminisce. We have had our good notes and bad notes, yet always "the melody lingers on."

Freshmen Tune-up for Four Harmonious Years

Freshman Class History

"Young and Foolish" seemed to be the freshman theme song those first trying days at PHS as we entered the mystic world of one-way corridors and up-and-down stairways. We soon learned to ignore the teasing from those smug upperclassmen, and in a short while we became adjusted to the routine.

As class elections came up, we began considering candidates to the tune of, "There'll be Some Changes Made." Janet Cass was elected president, and Peter Mann, Susan Campbell and Tom Disbrow served as vice president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. We began to feel a close unity as a class, and our hard efforts in producing together our first social event were rewarded. Our Freshman Party was truly "Some Enchanted Evening," and we had a wonderful time getting better acquainted with our classmates.

With our great friend and class adviser, Miss Marion Newson, as that special "Someone to Watch Over Us," our busy year was filled with memories. Now that it is drawing to an end, we realize that we have secured a good footing on that "Long, Long Trail," and we will climb steadily until we reach the summit, graduation.

First row: C. Onque, J. Cass, S. Campbell, C. Bauer, C. Sabino. Second row: P. Mann, T. Disbrow, R. Cohen, G. Breen, A. Sinteff, P. DeAngelis, and M. Leibowitz.

Strengthening school pride and spirit during the past year were the main objectives of the Student Council. This organization represents the student body of PHS and is composed of representatives elected in the fall from every homeroom. The officers of Student Council, Joe Hines, Tim Hall, Joan Rapps, and Jim Shrager, who were elected by the student body during the spring of '57, conduct the Council meeting, which is held in the library during Friday activity period. To carry out Council activities and investigate any problems, various committees were formed. The Cardinal Dance, a stamp collection, a suggestion box, and the pep rallies were only a few of this year's Student Council activities. Advising our Council this year were Miss Marion Newson, Dr. Jean Francis, and Mr. George Reck.

Working Together to

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Planning the agenda and discussing any new business to be considered at the Student Council meeting on Friday are the main tasks of the Executive Council. This council is a subcommittee of Student Council and meets every Wednesday activity period. The Executive Council is composed of the four Student Council officers, the four class presidents, and the four permanent Student Council committee chairmen. Advising the committee during the past year were Miss Marion Newson, Dr. Jean Francis, and Mr. George Reck.

THE USHER SQUAD

A swirl of tulle, a drift of perfume, the staccato tap of high heels down the school corridors—the usher squad is on duty. These young lovelies add glamour and gaiety to staid concerts and lend color to the black and white of a male chorus. They also function at all school affairs with their male counterparts. Without them there would be confusion, even riot. Through their efforts, there is order and dignity. The guiding hand of this honor society is that of Mr. Banta.

Dear Nancy,
best of luck

THE ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

"Places everyone. Curtain going up!" Members of the Assembly Committee can sit back and relax. The program planning and preparation of materials, under the guiding hand of Miss Kramer, is completed. After the program, the committee listens to pupils' comments and evaluates the program. Did everyone enjoy it? If not, why? This group spends a great deal of time making assemblies more and more enjoyable for the student body. Everyone appreciates the fine work they do.

First row: R. Kramer, M. Engelking, I. Shuka, P. Tramer, R. Uslan, D. Butter, J. Korschun. Second row: R. Bohland, M. Wing, N. Mekle, S. Brown, R. Sulzberg, M. Klick, V. Bauer. Third row: W. THE AIR RAID SQUAD

Whenever there is an air raid, you can be sure that a space in a safe part of the building will be found for each and every student in PHS. The ten juniors and ten seniors who make up the Air Raid Squad are responsible for helping the teachers to see that this is accomplished, and that everyone remains orderly during the entire air raid. Members of the Air Raid Squad are chosen by the Student Council and are under the leadership of Mr. Banta.

ENTREE

Into each issue of the Entree go hours of note-taking, writing, typing, copyreading, re-typing, headline writing, proofreading, and worrying that despite all the work done, the issue will still never meet the printer's deadline. As any Entree reporter or editor will readily admit, however—it's worth it. For seeing in print the very words that you have written is reward enough for any young journalist.

Under the advisership of Spencer Steenrod, the paper published twelve issues this year.

MILESTONE EDITORIAL STAFF

Although frequently overwhelmed by mountains of used flash-bulbs, stacks of copy paper, and files full of photographs, the editorial staff never wavered in its effort to capture in words and pictures the spirit, the events, and the personalities which comprised the school year 1957-58 in PHS.

The herculean efforts of the many talented and willing staff members were coordinated by James Berman as adviser and Maxine Tepper as editor-in-chief.

With sighs of relief we made our deadline, and now with smiles of satisfaction we behold our assembled product. We hope it will serve to preserve your fond recollections of this school year.

MILESTONE BUSINESS STAFF

Functioning to raise money to support the Milestone by obtaining advertisements were Hilda Fleishman and her staff, with Mr. George Dixon acvting as adviser. Mary Ann Hibbard and her staff were busy convincing PHS students that a subscription to the Milestone is an absolute necessity. Advising Mary was Miss Frances Lord. After having contrived a new method for the Plainfield merchants to advertise their wares, the Business Staff worked hard toward the production of an improved yearbook.

MALE CHORUS

Christmastime found an ensemble of 25 boys, chosen from the Male Chorus, caroling through the halls of PHS. Later in the school year the complete group of eighty contributed to the success of the traditional Spring Choral Festival. Boys who enjoy singing and working together as a team were urged to participate in this activity. Under the leadership of Mrs. Vera Monez, they practiced during two regular classes, as well as during Friday club periods. Their programs were varied with part singing of college, folk and art songs, chanteys, and spirituals.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Spending a moment in the chorus room any Monday after school, or during a chorus class, perhaps you saw one hundred ambitious girls laboring tediously to perfect several songs. Harmonizing in three or four parts, the girls sang folk and classical songs. Led by Mrs. Vera Monez, the Girls' Chorus sang for the Thanksgiving assembly and, in the spirit of Yule, performed their traditional program before the Old Guard of Plainfield. They concluded their year's activities with the annual Spring Choral Festival.

Mr. Owen Adams became director of the choruses at mid-year.

MIXED CHORUS

Fifty members of the girls' and male choral groups, equipped with above average vocal talent and an ability to learn music quickly, comprise the Mixed Chorus. With guidance from Mrs. Vera Monez, their carols and harmonizing helped to create a holiday atmosphere for the tableaux of the Christmas assembly. In keeping with custom, they performed for the city's Brotherhood Service in February, as well as in the Spring Choral Festival and Mrs. Hogan's dance assembly.

CHEERLEADERS

With an ever ready "Yea-a-a-a team," the cheerleaders have kept P.H.S. spirits high through another year of football, basketball, and pep rallies. This hardworking, vivacious bunch, with captain Judy Siergej and co-captain Diana Ward, is under the leadership of Miss Audrey Joyce. They all deserve a rousing cheer for livening up so many of the year's activities.

DRAMA CLUBS

As the curtain rose on the 1957-1958 season of the PHS Drama Club, we discovered that the sophomore, junior, and senior thespians had merged their clubs into one organization. Their activities were planned and produced by the four officers and the Drama Council, consisting of three elected representatives from each participating class group, and were under the direction of Miss Virginia Mixer and Miss Rita Kramer.

The major activity of the season was a one-act play contest. In preparation for this and other plays, members contributed their knowledge of the medium with the aid of demonstrations, speakers, or an occasional movie. Some of the senior members participated in the seenior play, and others attended a theater party.

THE FIRE DRILL SQUAD

Making up the Fire Drill Squad are Chief Hawkins and his twenty-three expert helpers. These students assist the teachers in the fire drills which are held twice every month. It is the duty of the squad to see that all doors and windows are closed and that everyone leaves the building as quickly and as orderly as possible. The members, juniors and seniors, are appointed by the Student Council and are directed by Mr. Banta.

First row: P. Albert, S. Daum, H. Hawkins, Mr. Banta, B. Walborn, L. Hanigan, S. Miller. Second row: J. Harris, D. LaRossa, W. Carmichael, J. Swaney, R. Clash. Third row: E. Cislo, J. Nadler, N. Herrold, M. Brown.

THE LIBRARY COUNCIL

Amidst the books and magazines in our school library you will find the members of Miss Josephine Miller's Library Council. Students gain experience in library procedures, while rendering a valuable service to the school. At their weekly meetings, club members discuss better methods for making the facilities of the library more available to the students. Book criticisms and reviews, and the club newspaper, The Reading Corner, are new activities this year.

THE STAGE ELECTRICIANS

Boys who like to work behind-the-scenes on lighting and other technical jobs have found a good opportunity to do so in the Stage Electricians Club. The members, under the skillful supervision of Mr. Eric Nelson, add glamour and color in making all our plays, dances, and assemblies a success.

Back to camera: G. Sandelier. Back to camera kneeling: F. Sandquist. Standing: W. Roberts, C. Walz, R. Young, W. Robertson. Sitting: D. Rue, E. Neilson.

First row: S. L. Bloom, M. Klick, J. Yamas, K. Sheppard, J. Bernstein, G. Keene. Second row: Miss Denker, J. Petrozzeli, L. Dietrich, S. Baker, B. Sporer, F. Osborn. Third row: S. Krystopick, C. Osborn, P. Wormley, S. Schmidt, J. Glasser, E. Malcolm.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club, sponsored by Miss Denker, is comprised of pupils in all four classes. This year the club sent gift boxes overseas, and during the Red Cross Drive, collected $125 which, according to their sponsor is the largest amount ever collected. The club has also served at the Red Cross Chapter House.

NEWS BUREAU

If there's an important event taking place anywhere in the school, you can be sure that a member of the News Bureau is there to cover it. Under the direction of Miss Alice Egan, members not only perform a service to the school, but they are receiving valuable practice in writing news articles. They inform the community of P.H.S. activities by means of press releases to the Courier-News.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

"Class, I'd like you to meet Miss Smith." The starry-eyed kindergarteners stare in wonder as another member of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA CLUB makes her teaching debut. This experience is a common one for upperclass members of the club. Under the direction of Miss Marie Maurel, these future teachers visit elementary schools for observation and practice teaching. The underclass section, under the supervision of Mrs. Rasmussen, sees movies and hears many interesting speakers.

Clubs Promote Students' Interests

IT ALL ADDS UP—Arlene Cospito. Other members of the Business Machine Club gain experience on computers.

Brownies, submarines, and other delicacies dear to the hearts of teenagers are concocted by the BOYS' COOKING CLUB. Under the management of the chief chef, Mrs. Berry, the boys meet to sample their culinary efforts, and to get experience in the use of utensils and basic cooking techniques.

With a klick and a klack, the members of the BUSINESS MACHINES CLUB are off to work. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Wyer, club members gain valuable career experience while availing themselves of the privilege to use the machines whenever the need arises.

Under the direction of Mrs. Garreston, the "slick chicks" of the FASHIONS AND PERSONALITY CLUB learn the latest news about fashions, cosmetics, nails, and hair styles. Discussion, movies, and the advice of outside speakers help the girls attain their goal of pleasing appearance.

Members of the team, and other interested boys of the FOOTBALL CLUB obtain information on how to play the game. According to Mr. Abe Smith, adviser, much of this information is gained by watching movies on the subject.

Comprenez-vous! No? That's all right. We'll leave understanding French up to Mme. De Vlaming's FRENCH CLUB. Students who have taken one year of the language enjoy observing French holidays and customs through skits, songs, and their annual banquet.

The FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA CLUB, directed by Miss Olga Sobolak, R.N., is open to all upperclass girls who are interested in a nursing career. During the past year, the girls have seen movies concerning nursing, given reports on certain hospitals in this area, and visited Martland Medical Center.

Five . . . four . . . three . . . two . . . one . . . zero . . . fire! Members of Edmond Lonsky's FUTURE SCIENTISTS CLUB are preparing to launch themselves on a career in science. In this club each student is given the opportunity to gain knowledge about various scientific careers and to decide which field he is best suited to enter. A score of years from now these students may be our country's finest engineers, doctors, or biologists as well as cartographers, koniologists, and cosmologists.

L'HOMME EST MALADE, N'EST PAS?—Doctor, Chuck Breen, and receptionist, Anita MacDonald, await the news of Frank Maresca's health, as nurse, Barbara Gill, examines him in French Club skit.

Best of luck Mary, [illegible]
all you do. Be good and have a nice summer.
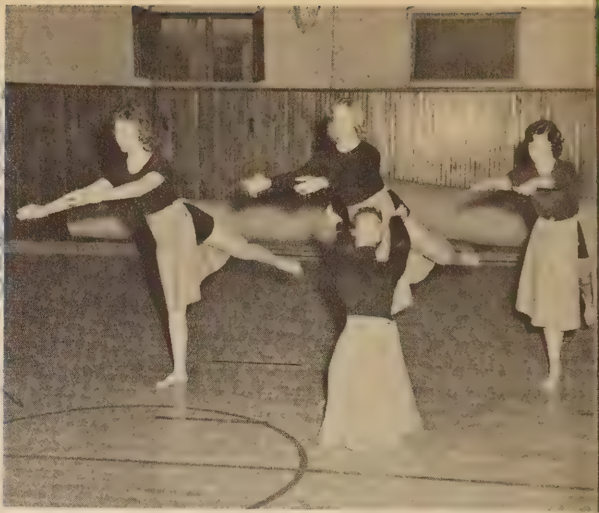
See ya next year.



SELF-EXPRESSION THROUGH INTERPRETIVE DANCING—R. Lukatis, I. Nielsen, P. Dickerson, C. Gurney.

Sprechen sie Deutsch? Members of the GERMAN CLUB go about learning how in interesting and unusual ways. To find out more of the culture and traditions of Germany, club members, sponsored by Mr. Cloos, take trips, hear lectures, and see films of their "adopted" country.

If you dream of living like Robin Hood, out in the wilds, the HUNTING AND FISHING CLUB, sponsored by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Burden, will teach you the lore of nature. Each Friday the boys meet to see films, have discussions, and learn the ways of the wilds. The boys learn how to handle a gun, cast a flyrod, set a trap, and other informative and interesting things.

Problems which cannot be included in regular math classes are in the MATHEMATICS CLUB under the direction of Mr. Arthur E. Smith. It is hoped that through this club special interests in math will be stimulated.

Fancy footwork is the trademark of MODERN DANCE CLUB members, who gather each week to practice under the direction of Mrs. Hogan. During these sessions the girls learn techniques to be used in creating dance compositions, while obtaining body coordination.

Miss Elizabeth Hageman guides the members of the OLD TESTAMENT CLUB to a better understanding of the Bible. During the year, students and committees often plan the weekly programs themselves. Some of the programs have included Bible lessons, Bible verses, outside speakers, and movies.

Many pictures are taken by the snappy members of the PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB. Mr. Huettl presides over the discussions of the movies and slides which members have taken. This year some of the members will enter a photography contest sponsored by the Plainfield Camera Club.

For those freshmen and sophomore girls who dream of donning the starched white cap, Mrs. Eleanor Henderson conducts the PROSPECTIVE NURSES CLUB. To learn of the various aspects of nursing and to discover the many opportunities the field offers, the club members heard speakers, had discussions, saw films, and visited medical centers.

Hello CQ . . . hello CQ . . . this is K2ZCH calling CQ. This familiar call is often transmitted by the RADIO CLUB when attempting to contact radio amateurs in the United States or in foreign countries. In addition to spending time "on the air," club members, under the guidance of John Pearson, are constantly improving their equipment. They strive to learn the radio-telegraph code and radio theory, preparing for the day when they can acquire their own licenses.

Need some backdrops? The members of this newly formed club have filled requests this year for all kinds of scenery. Under the direction of Mr. Schultz, the STAGECRAFT CLUB has been of great value in behind-the-scene activities for plays and assemblies.

IT'S YOUR MOVE—B. Feggans and J. Lumbrello sharpen checker skills in Recreational Games Club.

Amid jokers and duces, the RECREATIONAL GAMES CLUB, headed by Miss Firth, opened their first Canasta tournament. The students, freshman through seniors, have been kept busy solving puzzles and practicing for the tournament. The club was founded last year upon the request of the students.

Need a digital computer, a new wonder chemical, or the solution to a physics problem? Perhaps one of these topics is being explored by one of the fifteen intellectual students of science who belong to Mr. Ben Livingston's SCIENCE PROJECTS CLUB. The club's purpose is to encourage members to acquire an interest in a specialized subject and to create a display or working model to be entered in various science exhibits in the spring.

Mrs. Lukinov keeps the SEWING CLUB in stitches by showing them how to do Swedish embroidery and helping them with dresses, skirts, blouses, dresser scarves, and other fine creations.

Our showcases often display the finished products created by the talented students who join Mrs. McConnell's SKETCH CLUB. During club period the members practice painting, sketching, and modeling with clay.

Although bullfights have been the main topic of conversation for the SPANISH CLUB this year, the members have also found time to work crossword puzzles in Spanish. The club, with Miss Franco as adviser, has been working on plans for a showcase in the front hall.

If running with the wind in your hair has an appeal to you, you should be one of the thirty-five members of the TRACK CLUB. Mr. Marshall Brown coaches the boys on the standards of champions by teaching them the principles of running, hurdling, and other track events. Therefore, when you see a flash zoom by at amazing speed, you will know Plainfield is again trying to break the sound barrier.

MRS. LUKINOV AIDS FUTURE HOMEMAKERS—P. Werlock, E. Hughes, and L. Wilson fashioning a skirt.

CONTEMPLATING A TRIP INTO OUTER SPACE— A. Di Dario, L. Bomar, Mr. Livingston, R. Rosenbaum, F. Du Bow, participate in Science Projects Club.

Any freshman or sophomore girl who enjoys twirling may sign up for the TWIRLING CLUB, which is kept spinning by Mrs. Persinger. Under the direction of the members of the twirling squad, the girls may improve their skill. In the spring, those girls with exceptional talent may be chosen as members of the twirling squad.

When you hear the clicking of the machines, you will know that the members of the TYPING CLUB are busy perfecting their typing skills. Since the club, under the direction of Mr. Warren Sterling and Mr. Miles Riggin, meets only once a week, its membership is limited to those taking a course in typing.

If you ever intend to travel and want to gain a better understanding of the peoples of other lands, then WORLD FRIENDSHIP is the place for you. Guided by Miss Walker, the members of this club visit the United Nations, have foreign students as speakers, and write to pen-pals in different countries of the world.

"Moments to Remember"

STUDENTS SUPPORT CAUSE—the Cardinal fund-raising dance was a huge success.

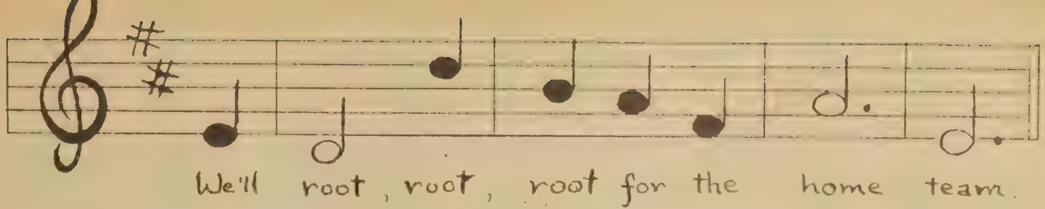
HOT DRINK ON A COLD DAY—John Shipley and Ronald Commune enjoy a refreshing pause at a football game.

JAMMED HALLWAYS — Almost 2000 PHS students crowd the halls every day.

BARBECUED BEEF TODAY—Students quench their hunger pains.

IT'S A TOUCHDOWN—School spirit rates high with cheerleaders.

"WE GATHER TOGETHER"—Choral group raises voices at annual Thanksgiving assembly.



We'll root, root, root for the home team.

Cards Win Central Jersey Championship

Dave Burrison

Rugged line play and a varied, hard hitting offense marked the 1957 Cardinal eleven. Coach Smith's boys swept through the opposition to post six wins against strong competitors. A loss to Union and a tie with Thomas Jefferson did not keep us from capturing the Central Jersey Group IV Championship. Dave Burrison was honored by being named all-state tackle.

Barringer Crushed

Striking on the ground and in the air, the Cardinals defeated Barringer 39-19. The superior performances of John Coyle and Joe Turi in the "T" formation, plus the power of Buster Edwards, doubling as half-back and quarter-back, turned the team into an undefeatable "TD" machine.

Jim Palmer

Columbia Downed

The Cougars of Columbia scored early in the first period, but "Buster," with his broken field running, ran eighty yards for a touchdown. A last minute touchdown pass from Turi to Tom McCreesh avoided a tie. Joe Turi crashed over for the extra point.

Woodbridge Whipped

PHS whipped Woodbridge 27-6 as the gridmen scored in the second and third quarters. Tackle Dave Burrison and guard Harry Clark led the way as Johnson and Fania foiled the Woodbridge defense in the first half. Harris's deep pass in the fourth quarter put PHS ahead 27-6. Late in the fourth quarter, Fania crashed through for a "TD" and Palmer pushed over for the 27th point.

"Buster" Edwards

"YOU CAN'T CATCH ME!" — "Buster" Edwards gets loose around end and runs for touchdown against Perth Amboy.

DEFENSIVE TEAMWORK — "Horse" Palmer nails him low and Tom McCreesh hits him high.

"TOO LATE, 28!" — Jim Palmer heads for Perth Amboy's goal line.

Perth Amboy Defeated

Continuing on their winning ways, the Smithmen scored an impressive victory. The defensive wall was lead by Fred Podinker, whose heads-up playing resulted in a touchback when he tackled the Panther quarterback in the end zone. Jim Fania and, as usual, "Buster" Edwards crashed through for touchdowns.

PHS Tied

Thomas Jefferson astonished the Cards again. The 7-7 tie was a surprise because of the expected advantage held by the Plainfield team. A "TD" by McCarthy of Jefferson tied the game in the second half. In the fourth quarter the Cards fumbled with four yards to go in the fourth down. Our rooters felt that we had dominated the game, but the scoreboard did not show it.

Tom Butts

New Brunswick Blanked

The Card eleven proved their worth by making a powerful showing against the Zebras of New Brunswick. Dave Burrison and Jim Fania lead the defense, while Edwards would not be deterred from scoring two "TD's" on the ground and receiving two passes from Joe Turi. Coyle also passed to Butts for another "TD."

Plainfield Overwhelmed

Union defeated Plainfield 27-13. Plainfield picked up 112 yards in the first half but could not keep up the pace. In the second half, Union took the kick-off and moved to the Card 35 yard line before punting on the 20 yard line. Blocking and tackling power by Edwards and McCreesh hampered Union in the second half. The fight of our team will be remembered for some time to come.

Ronald Gwiazda

Westfield Nailed

Plainfield fans waited till the last quarter to see the Red and Blue take the lead in the traditional Thanksgiving Day classic. John Coyle, Jim Palmer, and Tom Butts scored touchdowns and Joe Turi faked a kick and then passed for an extra point. PHS marched to a final victory to conclude the 1957-58 season.

Hoopsters Have Rugged Season

Plainfield High coursters, under the skillful guidance of Coach Bill Brann, had a rugged season which wound up with 7 wins and 10 losses. Jim Shrager was the spark plug of the team throughout the year, scoring 228 points to lead the squad. He was accompanied by Joe Nevins, Van Wormley, Ed Cislo, and Herm Johnson as the starting five.

The bright spot on this year's schedule was the Card defeat of Linden. This victory was the first one for the Cards at Linden in 17 years. After being behind at the half by four points, the Red and Blue rallied to pull out a 74-72 triumph. Other noteworthy games this year were the Westfield game, in which PHS won in the final moments; and the North Plainfield series, which this year was split at one game apiece.

"Buster" Edwards, Joe Hines, Roger Schwartz, and Ned Herrold helped to make our bench dependable and strong. Cards playing under the banner of the Red and Blue for the last time were Jim Shrager, Van Wormley, Joe Nevins, Ed Cislo, Joe Hines, "Buster" Edwards, Roger Schwartz, and Ned Herrold.

The future of PHS's basketball team will be heavily dependent on the J.V. players, since Herman Johnson will be the only player with varsity experience.

for Winning Season

Cardinal mermen churned to a dual meet season record of six wins and five losses to give swimming mentor Vic Liske his twenty-fourth straight winning season.

Roy Nichols, pint-sized junior diver, came through with an unblemished record of eight wins. Dave Evans, another junior, was also untouched, as he finished with eight firsts. John Boynton, the soph distance swimmer, took nine firsts and broke the pool record in getting one of them.

For the second year in a row, the Cards placed third in the Union Country Championships, and scored in eight of eleven events. The relay team of Evans, Boynton, Wilson, and Miller smashed the county and PHS records in taking the 200 yard freestyle. Dave Evans took the gold medal in the 50 yard freestyle, while Roy Nichols pocketed the dive title for the second straight year. George Bowers placed in the 100 yard backstroke, and Bob Duncan took third in the 100 yard breaststroke.

In the Eastern Interscholastics, the relay team swam to a creditable third place, and Nichols placed sixth in the dive for a medal. In the State Meet PHS placed third. David Evans took a first in the 50 yard freestyle event. John Boynton, Bud Wilson, M. D. Miller, and David Evans captured first place in the freestyle relay.

Representing Plainfield for the last time are Ira Bloom, Mike M. Miller, Lanny Gartenberg, Bob Duncan and John Nagengast.

Grapplers Exhibit Fighting Spirit

Facing the challenge of some of the strongest wrestling teams in the state, our grapplers held their own, winning four out of eight dual high school meets and losing to the West Point Plebes. Coach Abe Smith kept the boys in fighting trim and spirit.

The Cards were led by Stan Christman in the 122 pound class with an 8-1 record and Sophomore Joe Turi who sported a 5-1-1 record in the 130 pound class. John Coyle, another sophomore, posted a 6-3 record, alternating between the 140 and 147 pound classes. Plainfield was also represented by Monte Cassett at 106 pounds, Bob Grey at 115 pounds, Ray Collins at 135 pounds, Bob Iraelsky, who also alternated between the 140 and 147 pound classes, Bill Dunn at 147 pounds, Jim Donnely at 167 pounds, Bob Zagoria at 177 pounds, and Jerry Plum as heavyweight.

The team will be without the services of varsity seniors Jim Donnely, Bob Grey, Ray Collins, Bob Israelsky, and Bill Dunn next year.

The prospects for next season look good as sophomores John Coyle, Joe Turi, and Jerry Plum will again be available. Also returning for next year are juniors Bob Zagoria and Monte Cassett.

Netmen Enjoy Successful Season

Under the guidance of Coach John Simpson, the Plainfield High School tennis team concluded a successful season. The netmen won 11 matches and lost only 3.

The Cards suffered their only defeats at the hands of the current state champions from Westfield and the North Plainfield netsters. The Plainfield netmen also participated in state and county competition.

Nelson Mendell's name was chosen to be inscribed on the Honor Plaque which hangs in the boys' gym. However, the strong playing of Roger Schwartz, James Shrager, and Peter Saidel was singled out for mention.

Members of the varsity included: George Denliker, Nelson Mendell, Peter Saidel, Roger Schwartz, James Shrager, and John Thurston. Playing for the last time were seniors John Thurston and Nelson Mendell. Next season's hopefuls are Roger Schwartz, James Shrager, Peter Saidel, and George Denliker, with Roy Gartner and Joel Schapiro rounding out the team.

Diamondmen Tally

Four victories brightened a disappointing season for the varsity nine. After getting off to a shaky start, the team hit its stride toward the end of the season. They won three of their last five games. In the Union County Tournament the Cardinal nine was shutout 11-0 in the first round by Union.

Coach Liddy had to field a comparatively green team as the season opened. There were only four seniors on the varsity—Bob Murray, Scott Boice, Joe

As has come to be a Plainfield custom, our track team showed its heels to most of the state during the 1957 season. Although New Brunswick was toppled, 78-39, Thomas Jefferson, an annual threat, won a squeaker, 61-56. The Brownmen avenged their only dual meet loss by trampling Perth Amboy 87-30. Next they won a triangular meet 59½-50½-33, with Woodbridge second and Columbia a low third. In the last dual meet, PHS beat Union 63-54.

Plainfield placed third in the Union County Relays, and later in the Union County I.A.C. the team copped third. More seconds came both at the Long Branch Relays, in which the team placed second; and in the Penn Relays, where the mile relay team took second position.

In the Newark Board of Education meet, the team placed third. Bill Legat ran a 1:59.5 half mile to shatter the existing record by three-tenths of a second. To round out the season, PHS took fourth in the Central Jersey meet and ninth in the state.

Seniors finishing their track careers in PHS are: John Antonopoulos, John Baker, Ray Clark, Davis Deane, Bill Farr, John Fitzgerald, Mel Folk, Al Galli, Bill Legat, Bob Ley, Bill Long, Andy McIver, Don Pearson, Steve Scheckman, Jay Simpson, Bob Testut, Bob Venezia, and Allen Weber. Bill Legat's name was placed on the Honor Plaque, and Don Pearson won the Harold Bruguiere Award.

Cross Country Team Crowned State Champs

"There's a long, long trail awinding to the land of our dreams"—but our cross country team achieved the goal, an undefeated season. Plainfield High School harriers showed their heels to Cranford, New Brunswick, Rahway, Metuchen, Thomas Jefferson, Hillside, and Mountain Lakes on the route to the Union County Championship, Central Jersey Championship, and State Championship. The powerhouse combination included Mike Sabino, Ken Davis, George Bowers, Ned Herrold, Cecil Jones, Ralph Harper, and Joel Nadler.

The harriers, along with the three championships, enjoyed two shutouts, rare in cross-country. Both Rahway and Metuchen fell the same week, and in the latter meet, Coach Brown's men took the first eight places.

In the Central Jersey meet, Plainfield scored only 28 points for a new meet record, and in the state meet Mike Sabino placed sixth to give PHS its first championship.

Prospects for the 1958 season are excellent, with only two seniors graduating—Mike Sabino and Ned Herrold. Other boys returning for next year's team are Pete Hierl, Barry Fitzgerald, Dick Grote, Dave Folk, Lynn Grey, and George Van Sise.

Girls Enjoy Year 'round

GIRLS' TENNIS

On many an autumn afternoon the PHS tennis courts are thronged with gay Dianas in Bermuda shorts who are swinging their raquets vigorously and occasionally hitting an elusive ball over the net. The fall tennis program attracts sixty girls who are trying to improve their skill in a popular sport. As the season wanes, the girls compete in an individual elimination contest. The winner of this tournament becomes girls' tennis champ of the season. Thanks to the good weather, the competent guidance of Miss Newson, and the spirit of cooperation of all participants, a highly successful season was completed.

It's only an enthusiastic group of PHS girls enjoying a softball game. Under the guidance of Miss Joyce, practice is held twice a week in alternate spring seasons. Not only do the girls learn to be good ball players, but they practice good sportsmanship also.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

An enthusiastic and energetic group of girls meets every Monday and Thursday in the girls' large gym during the winter season. These girls are all interested in basketball and are striving to develop their skill in playing and officiating the game under the supervision of Mrs. Hogan. Towards the end of the season, an interclass tournament is held in which one class team emerges as victor. Credits toward G.A.A. awards are gained through participation in basketball, as in all other girls' sports.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Any girl who has gone out for sports during the year is automatically a member of the Girls' Athletic Association. Two meetings a year are held, one in the fall and one in the spring. During the spring meet, the girls have the opportunity of electing officers. The officers meet during the year with the sponsor, Miss Audrey Joyce, and set up policies, arrange the budget, and help make up the slate for the following election. They also aid in carrying out the point system, by which a member of the G.A.A., through participation in sports, can earn enough points to win an award.

Medley of Memories 1957-58

This eventful year will go down in the annals of history as the year in which a satellite was successfully launched and the class of "58" was graduated from PHS. Sputniks, mutniks, "grinches" and hot dogs on Wednesday helped to make the long stretch from September to June even more memorable than any in the past.

The chronological listing which follows needs to be clothed with fond associations which will give special meanings to the words and transform them into unforgettable occasions. They may help to preserve for us the outstanding activities which engaged us in our senior year.

SEPTEMBER: Thirty days hath September . . . September 5—summer vacation had whizzed by and we found ourselves pushing through the halls of PHS looking for our assigned homerooms . . . Some upperclassmen made as much as two cents by selling tickets for the fourth floor elevator . . . Throngs of exuberant students took full advantage of the S.A.T. offer . . . The first assembly of the school year was an induction assembly for the Student Council officers. Joseph Hines headed the Council as president . . . Eager freshmen were briefed on school policies, and they gradually became accustomed to life in Plainfield High . . . Governor Faubus shocked the nation by summoning the Arkansas National Guard to block integration in Central High School in Little Rock. Mounting tension and increasing riots caused President Eisenhower to station federal troops in the city to enforce the Federal Court's order.

OCTOBER: The 1,920 students of PHS made it necessary to hold different assemblies for freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors . . . October 4—Soviets successfully launched Sputnik, the first artificial earth satellite . . . Wednesday and Friday Activity Program began . . . Long lines formed in the auditorium as clean, white T.B. patches

"ALL FOR PLAINFIELD STAND UP AND HOLLER!" — Cheerleaders bring out our school spirit.

THEY GUIDED OUR SCHOOL — Mr. Held administers oath to student council officers: Jim Shrager, Joan Rapps, Tim Hall, Joe Hines.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU — Students enjoy the Fall Mixer, the first social event of the year.

were taped on outstretched arms . . . Queen Elizabeth was welcomed to the U. S. by President Eisenhower . . . We made new friends and renewed friendships at the annual Fall Mixer as we strutted and strolled to the music of Vince Waldron and his orchestra and cut the squares with Walt Wengryn's band . . . Miss Whelan was kept doubly busy with case upon case of Asian flu in PHS.

NOVEMBER: Seniors beamed with pride as their play, "Hearts Were Young and Gay," made a tremendous hit on the PHS stage . . . The subscription campaign of the 1958 Milestone was launched . . . We brought in clean, old clothing for the world-wide clothing drive which had just begun . . . Once again we started saving our canceled stamps for the Piney Wood School . . . Freshmen bopped at their "Holiday Hop," first party of the year given by our youngest underclassmen.

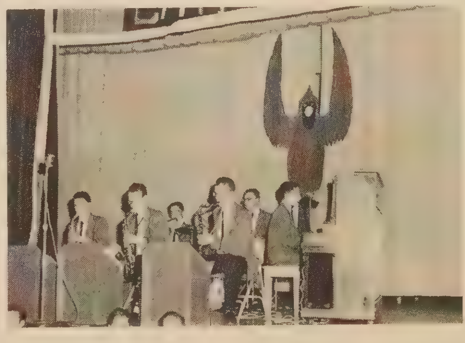
DECEMBER: Christmas cheer resounded and good will was spread by the Girls' Chorus as they sang traditional carols for the Old Guard . . . Senior girls voted Joan Rapps as the winner of the DAR award for good citizenship . . . In the Fall Sports Awards Assembly, Buster Edwards was named to the Football Honor Plaque . . . Our Christmas program featured the Mixed Chorus's rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus while Nativity tableaus illustrating the songs were posed in the background.

JANUARY: Girls everywhere greeted January with dieting—the newest thing is the slim look . . . January 11—School spirit hit a new high when the Cardinal Dance was held to raise money for the replacement of the stolen Cardinal mascot costume . . . January 31—The nation's punctured pride was somewhat soothed as the U. S. Army's satellite, Explorer I, circled in an orbit around the earth.

FEBRUARY: The "Sentimentalists" satisfied all tastes in music at the gala Junior-Senior Dance . . . Annual competition in the Interclass Play Tournament was won by the senior's production, "Op-o-Me-Thumb" . . . Extremely cold weather in Florida altered vocation plans for many . . . Snow came down heavily during the weekend of the fifteenth just in time for our Midwinter Recess . . . Girls all over the country are "boop boop de doopin" the style back to the flapper days with those "daring" sack dresses . . . Opera-minded pupils embarked on the annual trip to the Metropolitan Opera House to view "Carmen."

LIBRARY IS SCENE of many hours of hard work, with constant assistance of Miss Miller and her staff.

REACH THE GOAL — PHS supports dance to raise funds for new Cardinal mascot.



MARCH: As March winds howled overhead, we stumbled through the halls, clutching our third marking period report cards . . . United Nations test was administered to a group of PHS students who participated in the nation-wide contest . . . Mr. Siergej addressed seniors, giving helpful advice on how to get a job . . . A freshman assembly featured a model meeting of the student government to let the pupils see how the Council functions . . . Fun-lovers of Plainfield High rocked at the "Schoolhouse Rock," which proved to be a social success for the sophomore class . . . Student Council candidates gave their speeches . . . March 15—Juniors and seniors nervously clutched good luck charms as they awaited the signal to start college boards . . . We were constantly reminded by "Kilroy's notes" and posters to lock our lockers.

APRIL: We returned to school after Easter vacation ready to take up where we had left off . . . Up and down the halls the words, "Lollypop, lollypop, oh lolly lolly lolly" were hummed, sung, and whistled . . . The "tweedy" look still rated high . . . We eagerly awaited letters of acceptance, which for many of us were to be deciding factors as to our future . . . Freshman, sophomore, and junior candidates were elected to 1959 class offices.

MAY: We greeted the month of May by putting our winter clothes in moth balls and switching to gayly colored cottons . . . A wonderful array of talent was displayed at the Senior Banquet, after which a tinge of melancholy prevailed as we thought about all the times, both trying and enlightening, which we as a class had experienced together . . . The Choral Festival starred all of the chorus groups directed for the first time by Mr. Adams . . . Pastel gowns and white dinner jackets added to the enchantment of the Junior-Senior Prom . . . We ended the month on a solemn note with the Memorial Day Assembly.

JUNE: Cram, cram, cram; why must seniors take exams? . . . Academic awards were received by the seniors . . . Exams began and soon were over . . . June 17—The Commencement Exercises; "Plainfield we revere thee" . . . Seniors experienced unforgettable yet indescribable feelings as they walked out of the "past" and into the "future."

As we pause to reflect upon these past exciting months, the melodies which linger on are not some transitory hit tunes, but rather those shining hours when all was harmony, when we were in the groove, when PHS was really jumping with exciting events. So many things have happened which will forever be imprinted in our minds. Those days, for instance, when flushed and excited we came home to find long awaited letters of acceptance; the trying days during which we were undecided about the future, and those moments in which we decided upon the path we were to follow.

As we end our chronicle of 1957-1958, we hope that we have succeeded in recording something of the events, the personalities, and the atmosphere of the exciting year we experienced together. It has been our aim to make this Milestone an accurate reflection of ourselves and our school, and also a means of preserving this chapter in our lives so that we can truly say, "The song is ended, but the melody lingers on."

"PLAINFIELD, WE REVERE THEE" — Graduation class sings alma mater together for the last time.

Hi Kiddie -

Well how the heck are you? Well this year has been the best yet in high school and I'm sure next year will be even better. Will have a real sure enough good time this summer. We've had fun doubling, tripling and bumming around. I sure like pick-ups. OK aren't they? Walt's a real great guy and I hope everything works out! You know what I mean. Someday we'll get the right ones. Right. I'll never forget some of those parties, strawberries, windows, snow etc. etc. Well I hope that we'll get accepted in college. If not we'll rent a house OK.? Never forget those nights at church. Or rather forget them. Well, I can't think of much more to say except if you'll be a good girl so will I & if not We-l-l-l-l-l! Try hard anywho!

Lots of Love to the best friend I have,
Janie

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE — Barbara Sims, Hilda Fleishman, and Betty Beahr are introduced to STAVID by Eugene B. Kelly, personnel director, and Nancy Garrenger, travel agent and former Plainfield High School student.

Congratulations to the Class of '58

Many alumni of Plainfield High School are now helping Stavid grow in size and importance as a major producer of electronic systems used in the global defense of our country.

All kinds of skills and training contribute to the vital services we offer to the electronics industry and to the various military agencies. Stavid is proud of the part each employee plays on this giant team.

To you who are starting your careers and to those going on to advanced study, Stavid extends an invitation to examine the career opportunities available right here in Plainfield.

We sincerely wish you every success for the future.

Nancy,
Never forget our dear ol' homeroom #340 with "R.P."
He's one I don't think anyone shall forget or can forget very easily.
Have fun next year in your senior year and in the future years. Don't work too hard. It makes for a dull person. I don't think I could get used to you being dull.
